ON THE ROADMAP

POLICY DEVELOPMENT AND REVIEW

The IT Policy Office is continuing to review and update IT Policies to best serve the University's Information Technology needs. We are always soliciting feedback on new policies. All feedback that is received by the IT Policy Office is saved and included in the policy review process.

Network	Currently our network policies reside on help.unc.edu in a set of longstanding documents intended for an array of audiences. Those documents are being consolidated into a smaller set of draft Policy and Standards which will move to the ITS Policy page. Expect those drafts for public review in February.
Security	Our annual review of the IT Security Controls Standard is upcoming. Based on feedback received since the last revision, expect to see a new draft posted for review in late February or early March. If you have feedback to offer prior to that, it is always welcomed!

We hope to make IT policies easily accessible, and the drafting and development process open and productive.
